NEW LONDON COUPLE
SIXTY YEARS MARRIED
Mr. and Mrs. Franklin N. Sisson Will Observe Anniversary on Friday.
To the lot of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin N. Sisson of Broad street, New London, will be an unusual experience on Friday of this week, when they will be privileged to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. Mr.
Sisson is 55 years old and his bride of three score years is 80.
A happy smile illumined their faces when they united in declaring that if they had to start all over the journey again, they would choose the same mate. In all their married life neither has had any serious illness and for 30 years neither has taken a drop of medicine.
Mrs. Sisson was Miss Mary Ives.
She was born in Ohio but has lived in New London since her marriage.
Her life. Mr. Sisson is a native of New London and has always made his home in that city. They were united in marriage by Rev. J. C. Waldo, pastor of the Universalist church located at the corner of Church and Main streets. For a long period Mr. Sisson was engaged in the grocery business and in recent years held the position of clerk of the mayor of New London.
Friday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Sisson will be pleased to receive their friends at an informal dinner. That the home will be a crowded one without saying. "We are old fashioned people and the affair will be extremely simple," said Mrs. Sisson with a kindly smile. "In fact we are so old fashioned we never thought of giving a party." Mr.
Sisson is well known among the older people of the city and has been in Norwich annually for the national conventions.

WEST SIDE CAR CRASHED INTO WAGON.
Spilled Load of Grain and Wheat Men
Into Street.
A wagon conveying two men of Polish nationality, who were introduced to the city by a local carter, and a load of grain was struck by the trolley car due at East Great Plain at 7.15 o'clock Tuesday evening.
The men were thrown out of the wagon and the load of grain spilled.
The car was in charge of Conductor Hero and Motorman Graves. The accident occurred about directly opposite the new entrance to the fair grounds. At the time the car was moving at the usual rate of speed and it seems that the glare from the trolley car struck the car and the mobile made it difficult for the motor-man to see very far ahead. When the machine passed he saw the team near the truck and he tried to stop too short to prevent the crash. The men were attended by Dr. Callahan, who was called by a local carter.
They were unable to speak English and it was found necessary to get an interpreter. It was found that they lived in the vicinity of Oak Lake.
They were not seriously hurt. The horse escaped unharmed.

AT THE DAVIS THEATRE.
The Blue Envelope.
To say that The Blue Envelope, the three act farce presented at the Davis theatre on Tuesday evening, was all right, is to say the least, to say the theatre management would be to give it just credit. It was in fact one of the best productions of its kind ever brought to Norwich by the Davis management. The audience, although not the largest of the season, was of good size and they manifested their appreciation of the efforts of the cast with well deserved applause.
Carrie Reynolds as The Angel, an angel as she seemed to be, a clever woman, ready at a moment's notice to use her wit and her wiles, her wiles meshes (she seemed to prefer fat men), was well backed up by an excellent cast. Edward Garvie, as John Doe, fat and witty, was a perfect comedian in truth, and one of the Angel's victims, seemed to have formed a plan to get rid of her, and he was definitely, comical predicaments, and then getting out of them as quickly as he got in. Dr. Andrew Maurice (Victor Hargrave) was a perfect character actor in the general mixup of domestic affairs, was exceptionally good. John MacSwiney took the part of the blustering and quick tempered, also Colonel Horatio Bulger, one of the doctor's patients, who got into almost as much trouble as the doctor, too, as John Doe. Ralph Nairn appeared as Dr. Plant, proprietor of a sanatorium which served as a refuge for unfortunate and nervous patients, and was also for Richard Doe, whose approaching marriage was very nearly broken up by the sudden appearance of his wife. The Angel, whom he thought dead. In spite of the tangle which seemed to grow with every turn John Doe made the farce had a harmonious ending and the audience left the theatre well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

FUNERAL.
Daniel N. Cranston.
The funeral of Daniel N. Cranston was held from the undertaking parlors of Church & Allen Tuesday afternoon, with relatives and friends attending.
Rev. Joel B. Slocum, D. D., pastor of the Central Baptist church, officiated.
Relatives acted as bearers. Burial was in Brewster's Neck cemetery, where Rev. Dr. Slocum read a committal service.
Daniel N. Cranston was the son of Charles Cranston and Deborah Simms Cranston of Preston. He lived all his life in Preston and Norwich. He leaves a son, Frederick Cranston, of Quaker Hill, a brother, Charles Cranston, of Woonsocket, R. I., and a sister, Mrs. Annie Sherman, of North Franklin. There are also eight grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.
Organizing Democratic Club.
A preliminary meeting towards the organization of a democratic club in this city was held Tuesday night in the rooms over the Capitol Lunch.
Henry Gebhardt was chairman of the meeting. On Thursday evening of this week another meeting will be held to perfect the organization.

HON. JOHN H. BARNES
At the 19th Republican Senatorial convention held in the town hall on Tuesday at noon, Hon. John H. Barnes was nominated for state senator by Dr. Clinton E. Stark, Ex-Senator Wallis S. Allen, chairman of the senatorial committee of the district called the committee on the coming election.
When he called for nominations for chairman of the convention the names of Dr. Clinton E. Stark of New London and William I. Allen were presented. Dr. Stark withdrew his name and Mr. Allen was elected. Arthur G. Crowell was then chosen clerk. The election of a credentials committee was dispensed with as on motion of Clerk Crowell, fully endorsed, the credentials of the delegates were Arthur G. Crowell, Dr.
C. E. Stark, Albie L. Hale, Frank T.
Naples, of Norwich; Michael Nolan, John B. Hollowell, Alanson Fuller, William H. Wicks of Preston; Frederick W. Burton, of New London; and prose for Henry A. Allen, of Ledyard.
According to the usual custom no resolutions committee was appointed.
When called for the names of the nominations for state senator, Dr.
Clinton E. Stark presented the name of Hon. John H. Barnes, of Ledyard, in his renomination address Dr.
Stark said in part:
We have met today to perform a most important, yet a very pleasant duty; important, because we have been commissioned to nominate a candidate to represent our district in the next general assembly; pleasant, because that commission comes from the republican party, that great party of progress and achievement.
During the past four years the republican party in this district has been successful in electing a representative to the general assembly. In this year, in 1916, the 60th anniversary of his birth, it has been rejoiced to have a representative of this district in the general assembly.
The event has been celebrated by selecting as its candidate for the chief executive of this nation that distinguished President and statesman, Woodrow Wilson. The republican party has been founded to establish liberty, justice and the rights of the people.
After all its triumphs and achievements, for the same great principles.
I believe the next four years will be the greatest epoch-making period, barring the Civil war, this country has ever known. The world is in a state of turmoil and restlessness, and in time this will all cease. Then questions of tremendous importance will arise for settlement and how important it is that both national and local leaders of the republic of experience, men of judgment and action. Watchful waiting is sometimes a virtue, but watchful waiting without action is a crime.
As we review the history of this country we find that Connecticut has been a leader in the development and development and that she may maintain her standing it is important to select a man of the highest ability in directing state matters.
Prior to fifteen years ago southeastern Connecticut was hardly recognized on the political map, and during that time it has won legislative recognition and support equal to the other sections of the state, and during these years the gentleman whom I am about to name has three times been elected to the general assembly and it is due to his faithful work and that of his able associates that this recognition has been effected.
With his work in this district in the last legislature I am familiar, and it is largely because of his persistent efforts that we have secured legislative support and appropriations for our public institutions and other matters of importance to the state.
His relative measures gave him a commanding influence in the senate in all important matters.
The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. Richard R.
Graham, Norwich; vice president, Rev.
A. H. Harrington, Mystic; secretary, Charles L. Adams, Scarsdale, N. Y.; Archdeacon J. Eldred Brown and Rev.
Richard R. Graham, Norwich; S. Sherburne, Poquetanuck; P. Sidney Irwin, Pomfret; C. J. Harriman, Putnam.
Senator Barnes was declared renominated. Dr. Stark and Constable Michael Nolan were appointed a committee to notify him of his renomination. As they escorted the nominee into the hall there was a burst of applause.
After thanking the convention for the nomination Judge Barnes said: I thank you for the nomination. It may appear strange to some that both the former representative and the house from Norwich, are seeking a renomination, as well as your senator.
From this 19th district, however, I believe that both Mr. Bailey and Henderson may be renominated and elected. I have, as you may know, had some legislative experience, both in the house and senate, and I say to you that I have never known two men who did more and better work for their constituents than the said Bailey and the said Henderson. They both work hard and faithfully in the interest of all the people of their respective districts. Though it was a lean year, and while the Middletown asylum failed to get a dollar, one hundred and thirty thousand dollars for new buildings for our Norwich Hospital for the Insane.
The appropriation of $5000 for the Backus hospital was raised to $10,000.

REPUBLICANS RENOMINATE SEN. BARNES Senatorial Convention of 19th District Was Held Tuesday Noon at the Town Hall—Renomination Speech Made by Dr. Clinton E. Stark—Says Next Four Years Will be One of Greatest Epoch-Making Periods Country Has Ever Seen—Senatorial Committee Re-elected.

The only failure was in getting $10,000 appropriation for the new hospital for nurses at the Backus hospital. If they are elected I am satisfied they will get that amount, if not more, appropriated at the next session.
I have no ulterior motive in desiring to be returned to the senate. No ill will towards any man, and no political axe to grind. The Lord willing, I would like to be returned once more, in order that, if possible, I might accomplish what I have in mind. I saw it in 1897 to send me to the house and again in 1899 to the senate. In those years after much effort, the Montville trolley was put through, and it has been a paying proposition ever since, and a big benefit to Norwich. It is my desire to see that the Norwich Colchester & Hartford Traction company is likewise put through and built. It will in my opinion be of vast benefit and advantage to the stock in the company and expect none, but Norwich has been kind to me.
I have been in the legislature and I served and I want to do what I may for my town and district in return.

stock in the company and expect none,
but Norwich has been kind to me.
I have been in the legislature and I
for my town and district in return.
The representatives of the county saw
years after much effort, the Montville
been a paying proposition ever since,
Colchester & Hartford Traction com-
stock in the company and expect none,
but Norwich has been kind to me.
